2020 presented the greatest challenge to the Eglinton Crosstown LRT project to date – the onset of a global pandemic, affecting everything from local labour availability to supply chains. Faced with this new working safely and maintaining production. Despite this adversity, we managed to make significant progress towards our goals relating to community benefits, local/social procurement, and equitable practices.

We recognize that we are on land that has always been inhabited by Indigenous peoples. As settlers, we are grateful for the opportunity to live and work here; we acknowledge that we are on the traditional territory of the Anishinaabe, the Haudenosaunee, the Huron-Wendat, the Mississaugas of the New Credit, and the home of many diverse Indigenous peoples. We thank all the generations before us who have taken care of this land for thousands of years. We respect their deep connection to this place and acknowledge the contributions they continue to make in shaping our communities. The importance of Indigenous peoples and Aboriginal traditional knowledge transcends history; it is at the heart of Canada today, tomorrow, and every day thereafter.

Our Accomplishments

The pr

The process of going through the apprenticeship steps has been a welcoming learning experience. I could not be the worker I am today without the guidance of my supervisors and the team I have at my back. The opportunities Crosslinx has provided have opened so many doors to me, and I am forever grateful for the things I've learned and the great people I've worked with.

Ashley Downey

Construction Craft Worker - Mount Pleasant Station

I came all the way from Africa to Canada to go to school here studying accounting, but I realized that was not passion. I enjoy what I do now. I've learned the importance of safety, patience, and risk assessment prior to starting work. Crosslinx gave me the knowledge, tools and confidence required to be successful in my role.
